Score Point: 1

This response reflects fundamental deficiencies in persuasive writing skills. The writer agrees that all Americans should be required to perform two years of military service to ensure the safety of our country. The writer attempts to develop this position with details (we will be in danger of nuclear attack from Russia, North Korea, Cuba, and Japan). However, the key ideas of keeping America safe and not losing another war are repetitious and constitute most of the response. In addition, there are serious and persistent errors in mechanics, usage, and sentence structure that impede communication.
